Case Study

Challenge - Too little time for SEO

Van den Akker, a certified Honda dealer and local car garage, wanted to attract more regional customers and strengthen its independent brand identity, but lacked the time and marketing capacity to do so.

With a small team focused on daily operations, marketing was often postponed. Relying solely on Honda's national campaigns limited their visibility, so Van den Akker sought a sustainable SEO strategy to grow their local reputation and reach new customers directly.

WP SEO AI's - Approach

WP SEO AI implemented a product-focused content strategy built around clusters for Roelands' main tree and hedge species. Each cluster targeted practical, search-driven questions (e.g., pruning, planting, maintenance), aligning perfectly with customer intent.

WP SEO AI managed all content creation and publishing, while Roelands only reviewed high-performing blogs flagged by Content Alerts.

This allowed the company to scale visibility efficiently without diverting resources from daily operations.

WP SEO AI's - Impact

- WP SEO AI content now drives consistent organic traffic growth for Van den Akker.
- They have strengthened the local authority, helping car owners easily find answers about maintenance, repairs, and Honda-specific topics.
- In just a few months, organic visitors grew from 511 in July to 4147 in October, a 711% increase.
- Marketing has become scalable, efficient, and measurable, giving Van den Akker a strong and trustworthy digital presence that continues to grow week after week.
