

Vief Leven

From no scalable SEO process to regional market leader in 6 Months

Vief Leven, a specialized physiotherapy clinic, wanted to build stronger online visibility beyond word-of-mouth and referrals.

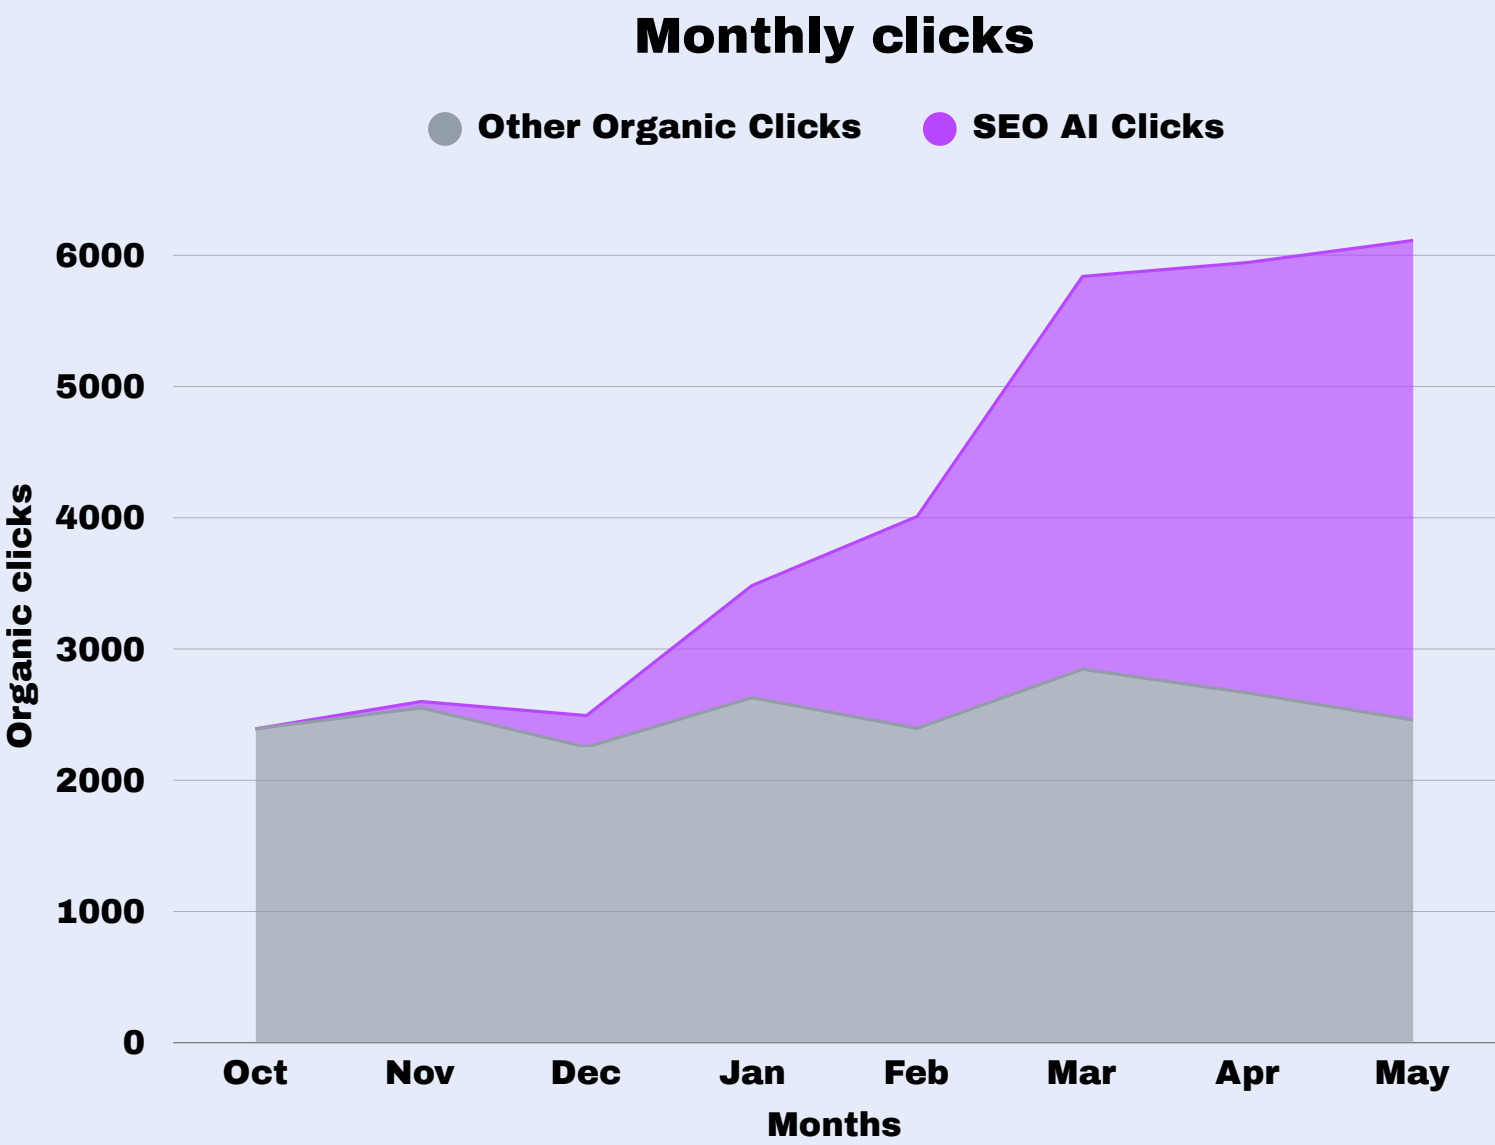

WP SEO AI developed a search strategy focused on informational and local treatment topics, helping people with knee and hip problems easily find reliable answers online.

In just a few months, SEO AI clicks grew from 49 in November to 3,654 in May (+7,357%), giving Vief Leven a strong regional digital presence that reflects its orthopedic expertise offline.

“After little SEO results, we started working with WP SEO AI - and it paid off. Within months, website visitors and treatment registrations clearly increased. The collaboration with Isabel is pleasant and transparent. She takes the time to explain what is happening and why. We warmly recommend SEO AI.”

Case Study

Challenge - Generative search first movers

Vief Leven wanted to improve its online visibility for people searching for knee and hip-related issues, but faced strong competition within the healthcare market. Traditional SEO approaches were time-consuming and made it difficult to consistently publish large volumes of relevant content.

At the same time, the clinic wanted to attract not only traffic, but visibility throughout the entire patient journey: from early symptoms and diagnosis to treatment, surgery, and recovery.

WP SEO AI's - Approach

WP SEO AI developed a two-phase content strategy. First, the focus was on broad informational long-tail keywords, helping Vief Leven answer common patient questions and build topical authority in orthopedic healthcare.

The strategy then shifted toward local SEO by combining medical conditions with North Brabant locations. This attracted highly targeted regional traffic from people with strong treatment intent.

Through AI-driven content optimization, keyword clustering, and scalable publishing workflows, Vief Leven rapidly expanded its online visibility within just a few months.
