How AI Search Opened the Door to a €200,000 Competitive Tender

Maximum Image supplies branded workwear, corporate clothing and promotional merchandise to B2B customers.

To reach more enterprise buyers, the company needed a consistent approach to SEO and AI search visibility.

WP SEO AI helped scale commercially relevant content. One major retail buyer subsequently discovered Maximum Image through AI-assisted research, leading to a competitive tender and an approximately €200,000 contract win.

“Being mentioned by an AI assistant opened the door for us. We still had to win the tender ourselves, but without that initial recommendation, we might never have had the opportunity.”

Challenge - Inconsistent Content

Maximum Image understood the potential of SEO, but its content production was inconsistent and often driven by seasonal opportunities.

Limited internal capacity made it difficult to publish regularly, build authority in valuable B2B product categories, and reach enterprise buyers during early supplier research.

WP SEO AI's - Approach

WP SEO AI built targeted content clusters around workwear, corporate clothing, branded merchandise and buying questions about customization and pricing.

The team combined GEO-focused, answer-first content with technical SEO improvements made alongside Maximum Image's web developer, helping the company strengthen its discoverability.

Customer Journey

- AI discovery → A major retailer researched workwear suppliers using online search and an AI assistant. Maximum Image appeared alongside competing suppliers.
- Website evaluation → The buyer visited Maximum Image's website to review its offering and assess its suitability.
- Competitive shortlist → Maximum Image was invited to take part in a tender alongside other suppliers.
- Commercial win → After meetings, detailed pricing and samples over a 2–3 month sales cycle, Maximum Image secured an approximately €200K contract.

From AI Discovery to Business Opportunity

- Not a typical inbound order: Maximum Image had to qualify as a supplier and compete for a major retail contract.
- A longer sales cycle: Unlike smaller orders that may close in days or weeks, this tender involved procurement meetings, pricing and samples over 2–3 months.
- The role of AI: Being discovered created access to a high-value opportunity. Maximum Image's commercial team won the tender.
- Another enterprise lead: A separate prospect with around 1,500 employees reportedly found Maximum Image among three AI-recommended suppliers and invited a discussion.

A supplied AI search example lists Maximum Image among workwear suppliers, illustrating its visibility during early-stage supplier research.

The value of this visibility is the opportunity to enter consideration before a buyer makes direct contact. Winning the contract still depends on a strong commercial proposal.
