

Bosto

From 0 content to 3704 extra clicks per month by WP SEO AI

Bosto, a Belgian food brand, wanted to strengthen brand awareness for everyday cooking products.

WP SEO AI developed a bilingual Dutch/French content strategy targeting awareness-stage topics like rice, quinoa, and trending recipes, matching how home cooks search online.

Despite a seasonal December dip, clicks recovered and kept growing while the broader industry declined after a Google algorithm update. Within 6 months, clicks grew from 0 to 3,704, giving Bosto a scalable content engine for long-term visibility and brand preference.

“We wanted to invest more in content, but simply didn’t have the time to do it consistently. WP SEO AI made that possible. Within a few months, we saw a clear increase in visibility and traffic, and more importantly, we’re now much more present when people search for everyday cooking inspiration.”

Case Study

Challenge - Efficiency Gap

Bosto's goal is to build brand awareness and consideration so that consumers consciously choose Bosto at the supermarket when purchasing rice or similar products. Beyond visibility, Bosto aims to become a truly beloved brand: one that stays top-of-mind from the moment a consumer thinks about buying to the moment they reach the shelf. SEO and content marketing play a key role in achieving this.

However, Bosto quickly realized that producing high-quality blog content is time-intensive, and keeping up with the demands of both traditional SEO and the growing importance of GEO had become increasingly difficult to manage.

WP SEO AI's - Approach

To build awareness among Bosto's target audience: home cooks who use their products in everyday cooking, we've developed a series of blog posts tailored to the awareness phase of the customer journey. The content covers popular kitchen staples and trending recipes, including questions about poke bowl rice, quinoa and bulgur.

Since Bosto operates in Belgium, all content is produced in both Dutch (Flemish) and French, with both languages being well-received by their respective audiences, ensuring the messaging resonates strongly with consumers across the country's two main language communities.
