“The combination of AI, personal guidance, and regular check-ins made it easy to identify new opportunities. We've been able to showcase our expertise on a much larger scale and ensure people can find reliable information when they need it”

Alex Loos, Manager at Revalis Clinics

Case Study

Challenge - AI curiosity

Revalis Clinics, a specialist healthcare center for persistent physical symptoms, wanted to strengthen its online authority and make its expertise easier to find, but was limited by a traditional SEO approach focused on only a small set of landing pages.

With a team focused on patient care and treatment, creating content at scale was difficult to manage internally. Revalis wanted a scalable SEO strategy to turn its specialist knowledge into accessible online information for patients, referrers, and healthcare professionals.

WP SEO AI's - Approach

WP SEO AI implemented a patient-focused content strategy targeting practical, search-driven questions around persistent physical symptoms, chronic pain, fatigue, dizziness, and related conditions.

WP SEO AI managed content creation, publishing, and optimization, while Revalis provided specialist input to keep the information accurate, trustworthy, and aligned with their clinical expertise.

This allowed Revalis to scale online visibility efficiently and build authority in a complex healthcare niche without diverting resources from patient care.
